Hawaiian Honeymoon Follows Pair's Vows

A honeymoon in Hawaii followed the nuptial promises joining Verne Christofferson to Gary Palmer Sept. 8 at the First Baptist Church in Torrance.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth L. Christofferson, 3413 Emerald St., Torrance, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr.

and Mrs. Ralph J. Palmer, 906 Cota Ave., Torrance.

Officiating at the 2 p.m. ceremony was the Rev. Duane W. Christofferson of Stockton, uncle of the bride.

The church was decorated with two candelabra and baskets of white chrysanthemums at the altar.

BRIDE'S GOWN

Miss Christofferson, es-father, wore a floor length gown of silk organza over chrome spun taffeta. Her gown had a sweetheart neckline. The skirt had a double-paneled front which was edged in chantilly lace. It had a brush train.

The bride wore a veil of silk illusion cascading from a crown of chantilly lace. The bridal corsage was made of white carnations circling two mystic Gardenias.

Attendants of the bride were Mary Palmer of Torrance, bridegroom's sister, maid of honor, and Mrs. Linda Mangers of Long Beach and Carolyn Perkio, bridesmaids.

PINK AND LAVENDER

They wore street-length replicas of the bride's gown in lavender, Miss Palmer; medium pink, Mrs. Mangers; and pale pink, Miss Perkio.

Scotia Society Slates Picnic

The Nova Scotia Society of Southern California will hold its annual "Bring your own lunch" picnic today, 12:30 p.m., at Bixby Park in Long Beach. Coffee will be provided by the picnic committee.

The organization is made up of persons born in the four maritime provinces of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island and Newfoundland. Its members live in 77 different cities throughout Southern California.

Maid of honor carried a corsage of pastel pink carnations circling deep pink carnations. It had deep lavender streamers. Bridesmaids' corsages were of medium pink carnations with deep pink streamers.

Flower girl was Lynn Christofferson, bride's cousin from Stockton, who scattered white carnation petals in the aisle. Candelighters were Steven Christofferson, bride's cousin from Stockton, and Tom Christofferson, her brother.

Attending the bridegroom was Al Pacinas, Torrance, best man. Ushers were Larry Bromke and Earl Riebold, Torrance.

RECEPTION FOR PAIR

A reception for the newlyweds was held immediately after the ceremony at the church social hall. Attending the guest book was Lee Christofferson, bride's cousin. Servers were Mmes. Vernon Heitkotter and Melvin Christofferson.

Special guests were Jo Anne Weber, bride's cousin from Lima, Peru; Mrs. Helen Stewart of Iowa, bride's grandmother; Mr. and Mrs. William Hartman of Wisconsin, bridegroom's grandparents; and Hal Goldsmith of St. Paul, Minnesota.

Upon return from their 15-day visit of Hawaii, Maui, Kua and Oahu, the newlyweds will live at 3510 Emerald St., Torrance.

EDUCATION

The bride, a staff writer at the Daily Breeze, is a 1958 graduate of Torrance High, a 1960 graduate of El Camino College and a 1962 Graduate of San Jose State, where she majored in journalism. She is affiliated with Beta Sigma Phi, Theta Sigma Phi, Kappa Tau Alpha and Corona Del Camino.

Palmer, also a member of the Breeze editorial staff, graduated from Torrance High in 1956. El Camino College in 1959 and San Jose State in 1961. He is affiliated with Beta Sigma Phi and Sigma Delta Chi.

AUTHOR'S INSIGHT to children's books is delivered Torrance youngsters by Mrs. Eleanor Cameron, writer of six novels for beginning readers, during a talk on her books Tuesday at Torrance Library. The program concluded the library's summer reading program for children, in which 198 participated. Mrs. Lila Held, children's librarian, looks on.

Torrance Y Sponsors Class About Financial Planning

"Financial Planning for Women" is the theme of a four-session program starting Sept. 20 sponsored by the Torrance YWCA.

Coordinator is Hanley Rogers, divisional manager of MJT Mutual Funds, Inc., a wholly owned affiliate of Mitchum, Jones and Templeton, Inc., members of the New York Stock Exchange, 1334 Post Ave. in Torrance.

"Women," says Rogers, "are becoming more and more the holders of the purse strings. Death or divorce, or just going through life on their own, makes it necessary that they be money managers."

"This course," continues Rogers, "will cover the problems to be found by almost all women who handle money."

Rogers has had many years of experience in the financial field. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan Graduate School and specialized in economics.

To round out the program, the legal and insurance aspects of financial planning will be covered as well as investment ideas.

The four sessions, to be given at the Torrance YWCA, will continue Sept. 27, Oct. 4 and Oct. 11.

All sessions will start at 7:30 p.m. There is no charge to YWCA members, but there will be a $1.50 registration fee for non-members. The YWCA office at FA 02255 may be contacted for reservations.
